

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996210563803316
Autore	Hinnebusch Raymond A
Titolo	The international politics of the Middle East [[electronic resource] /] / Raymond Hinnebusch
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Manchester ; ; New York, : Manchester University Press New York, : Distributed exclusively in the USA by Palgrave, 2003
ISBN	1-78170-020-6 1-4175-7797-5 9786610733880 1-280-73388-8 1-84779-031-3
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (273 pages) : illustrations; digital, PDF file(s)
Collana	Regional international politics series
Disciplina	327/.0956
Soggetti	Regionalism - Middle East Nation-state Postcolonialism - Middle East Middle East Foreign relations
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references (p. [240]-256) and index.
Nota di contenuto	Contents; List of abbreviations; Map of the Middle East; 1 Introduction to the international politics of the Middle East; 2 Core and periphery: the international system and the Middle East; 3 Identity and sovereignty in the regional system; 4 State formation and international behaviour; 5 Foreign policy making in the Middle East; 6 Comparative foreign policies: explaining foreign policy variation; 7 War and order in the regional system; 8 The Middle East in a decade of globalisation (1991-2001); Bibliography; Index
Sommario/riassunto	The international politics of the Middle East fills a major gap in the field of middle eastern political studies by combining international relations theory with concrete case studies. It will be of immense benefit to students of middle eastern politics, international relations and comparative politics. The book begins with an overview of the rules and features of the middle east regional system - the arena in which the local states, including Egypt, Turkey, Israel and Arab states of Syria, Jordan and Iraq, operate. It goes on to analyze foreign policy-making in key states, illustrating how systematic determinants constrain this policy-making, and how these constraints are dealt with in distinctive ways depending on particular domestic features of the individual states. Finally, the book goes on to look at the outcomes of state policies by examining several major conflicts including the Arab-Israeli conflict and the Gulf War, and the system of regional alignment. The book assesses the impact of international penetration in the region, including the historical reasons behind the formation of the regional state system. It also analyses the continued role of the external great powers, such as the United States and the former Soviet Union and explains the process by which the region has become incorporated into the global capitalist market
