

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996213073703316
Autore	Imeson Michael
Titolo	Techniques for ensuring PR coverage in the regional media : an insider's view / / Michael Imeson
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London : , : Thorogood, , [1998] ©1998
ISBN	1-85418-590-X
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (114 p.)
Collana	A Hawkesmere special briefing
Disciplina	659.2963498
Soggetti	Industrial publicity Journalism Mass media
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di contenuto	The author; Acknowledgements; Contents; Introduction; Chapter 1: Overview of the regional media; Chapter 2: Regional morning, evening and weekly papers; Chapter 3: Newspapers - the dominant force in the regions; Chapter 4: News versus views; Chapter 5: Pictures - a practical guide; Chapter 6: Feature Link - help from a trade body; Chapter 7: Local radio in more depth; Chapter 8: Regional TV news - a major news source for local people; Chapter 9: Magazines - a valuable means of communication; Chapter 10: Text services; Chapter 11: The Internet; Chapter 12: The when and the how Appendix 1: Case studies Appendix 2: The Press Complaints Commission
Sommario/riassunto	The regional media are vibrant and growing, attracting bigger and better audiences and producing better programmes and better publications - offering substantial PR opportunities at every level. But opportunities are often missed, partly because the PR industry often underplays the potential impact the regions can have and still considers that national media coverage is sufficient. This is short-sighted. Even the simplest campaign will achieve more space and airtime in the regions if the requirements and attitudes of those in the regional media are considered at an early stage. Some of th

