Nota di contenuto	Experimental Study for Actual Construction of Thixotropic Grout Material -- Effective utilisation of slag in concrete: Insights into fresh-state performance retention -- Sensitivity analysis of constraining forces in reinforced concrete slabs due to combined loading -- Genetic optimization of void formers for biaxial voided concrete slabs -- Direct Tensile Testing of Concrete: A Review -- Development of an eco-friendly one-part alkali activated mortar with blast-furnace slag: some preliminary results -- Microstructure, mechanical properties and long-term performance of GFRP bars embedded in LC3 concrete.
Sommario/riassunto	This volume presents the proceedings of the fib International Conference on Concrete Sustainability, held in Guimarães, Portugal on 11–13 September 2024. It covers topics such as concrete and advanced materials, structural performance and design, construction methods and management, durability, life cycle design, through-life management and care, resilience, dismantlement, reuse and recycling, & innovation in buildings and civil structure. fib (The International Federation for Structural Concrete) is a not-for-profit association whose mission is to develop at an international level the study of scientific and practical matters capable of advancing the technical, economic, aesthetic, and environmental performance of concrete construction.
