

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996383475403316
Autore	Norton Robert <d. 1635.>
Titolo	A mathematicall apendix,[sic] [[electronic resource]] : containing many propositions and conclusions mathematicall: with necessary obseruations both for mariners at sea, and for cherographers and surueyors of land; together with an easie perspectiue mechanically way, to delineate at sunne dyalls vpon any wall or plane giuen, be it direct, inclining, declining, or reclining, for the horizon, or meridian, in any region or place of knowne latitude. With other things pleasant and profitable for the weale publick, not heretofore extant in our vulgar: partly collected out of foreigne moderne writers, and partly inuented and practised by the author. Written by R.N. Gent
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed by R. B[raddock?] for Roger Iackson, and are to be sold at his shoppe in Fleet-street, ne[ar the con]duit, 1604
Descrizione fisica	[12], 39, [5] p., table
Soggetti	Longitude Sundials
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Epistle dedicatorie signed: Robert Norton. Suggested printer's name from STC. Title page lacuna conjectured from STC, volume 3, p. 89. Running title reads: A mathematicall appendix. Imperfect; title page torn, affecting imprint. Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018