Titolo	The bios panton heideotou, or, or [sic] The vision of eternity held forth [[electronic resource] ] : in answer to some antiquæries, vvhich were given forth from ægypt by one of Babels builders, a pretended minister of Christ, living in Worcestershire at Beudly, that is called Mr. Henry Osland. But the quæries were given forth as the following papers declare, out of simplicity of heart, for satisfaction of the truth: but instead of giving a reasonable account to him that asks, he rails like a greedie hangman, or bloody executioner that rages for blood that he might get gains by it, as in these following papers will be manifested. So now the antiquæries are answered by one who (as a fire-brand out of the fire) is escaped out of Ægypt from the magicians where the house of bondage is, into the south-side of the wilderness, which being in the evening tide he espieth the vvhole circumference of Canaan's land, to vvhich faith or Christ is leading him; but in a vway not knowvn but to the invisible life that gives a motion to every wheel, though the alteration of the effects of the wheels, or
