

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996385860503316
Autore	Schottennius Hermannus
Titolo	The gournement of all estates, wherein is contayned the perfect way to an honest life [[electronic resource]] : gathered out of many learned authors, a boke right profitable for all estates, but especiallie for the trayning [and] bringing vp of the yonger sort: written in Latin by that excellent learned man Andreus Hesse, translated into Englishe
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Imprinted at London, : By Henry Denham, for Thomas Hacket, and are to be solde at his shop in Lumbarstreate, [1566]
Descrizione fisica	[256] p
Altri autori (Persone)	BourmanNicholas
Soggetti	Christian life
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Signed at end by translator: N. Boorman. "Howe a man may attaine to the chiefe pointes of Christianitie, or deduction of a Christian life" by Adriaan van Baerland has caption title on M8r. The modern attribution to Archbishop Herman IV is erroneous; in the preface the authors of the 2 sections are identified as Hermannus Hessus (i.e H. Schottenius, called Hessus) and Adrianus (i.e H.C.) Barlandus. In the first section excerpts from Latin poets are rendered in English verse--STC. Colophon varies: undated or dated. In this copy the colophon is undated. Last leaf blank?. Signatures: Aâ' B-Q Râ'. Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018