Part second : by which the publishers of it would have the world believe it was written by the author of The character of a popish successor, &c. This is to advertise, that that author doth wholly disclaim that second part, and all others which shall be so called" -- Advertisement to "A vindication of The character of a popish successor" by Elkanah Settle. Written in defence of Elkanah Settle's The character of a popish successour, and in answer to Sir Roger L'Estrange's The character of a papist in masquerade. Attributed to John Phillips. Cf.
