Autore	Salthouse Thomas <1630-1691.>
Titolo	A candle lighted at a coal from the altar [[electronic resource] ] : whereby the King and rulers of this nation with the people of this present age may see the stone on which many have stumbled, and the rock which hath broken to pieces unfaithful men once in authority, who instead of protecting, did persecute the people of God, when they had the high places of the earth in possession, and that these present rulers may take warning betimes, least they stumble at the same rock, and while they have opportunity they may rather become as nursing-fathers to the flock of God within these dominions, by giving due encouragement to tender consciences, and men fearing God as in matters of religion / / and this is directed unto you by a subject of the King of Righteousness, Tho. Salthouse
