

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996386950003316
Titolo	The Generovs vsvrer Mr. Nevell in Thomas-street [[electronic resource] ] : who alloweth his maid usually a black pudding to dinner : who once bought a pullet for his wife when she was sicke, but he would goe to market himselfe, because he would not be cosened by the messenger, and brought the feathers home in his hat when it was pulled, because he would not loose them, and how he was troubled therewith when the Lord Major seeing him called to speak with him : and how he made lamentable moane to his neighbours, that his maid had robd him, because shee gave her sweet-hart a piece of bread and cheese
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed for Salomon Johnson, 1641
Descrizione fisica	[2], 6 p
Soggetti	London (England) Social life and customs 17th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Illustrated t.p. Caption-title: A dialogve between the maid and the nurse, about their master Mr. Nevell his generositie. Reproduction of original in Huntington Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0113