Autore	Collier Thomas <fl. 1691.>
Titolo	An additional word to The body of divinity, or Confession of faith; [[electronic resource]] : being the substance of Christianity. Added on special occasion, tending further to confirm some truths therein. With a further discourse about the doctrine of election, universal, and special grace, &c. All which were touched in the said Confession of faith, but in this more plainy and fully (though briefly) discoursed and designed for the good of all. Whereunto is annexed a seasonable word of advice, being an essay for peace and union among all the sons and daughters of peace. / / Written by Thomas Collier
