

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996389792303316
Autore	Lanfiere Thomas
Titolo	A looking-glass for a bad husband, or, A caveat for a spend-thrift [[electronic resource] ] : You that are guilty of that sinful crime of drunkenness, strive for to leave it off in time, lay up your money, do not it vainly spend, for in your greatest need, it will be your best friend, endeavour in your youth, lest in old age you want; for when that poverty doth come, friends will be scant, to the tune of, The poor man's comfort, or, Digby / / by T.L
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed for W[illiam] Thackeray, T[homas] Passenger, and W[illiam] Whitwood, [between 1670 and 1677]
Descrizione fisica	1 sheet ([1 p.] : ill
Soggetti	Alcoholism - England Ballads17th century.EnglandLondon Broadside poems17th century.EnglandLondon
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	T.L = Thomas Lanfiere. Cf. Wing (2nd ed.). Date range and publisher's names suggested by Wing (2nd ed., 1994). Verse: "You that are bad husbands." Printed chiefly in black letter in five columns. In this edition there is one larger woodcut above the last two columns and the 'L' of 'London' in the imprint is under the 'mp' of 'company'. Another edition has a woodcut above each column of text and the 'L' of 'London' is under the 'H' of 'Harlots'. Reproduction of original in: National Library of Scotland--Crawford Collections.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0097