

| | |
|-------------------------|---|
| 1. Record Nr. | UNISA996390445703316 |
| Autore | Deane Edmund <1582?-1640.> |
| Titolo | Spadacrene Anglica, = the English spaw, or, The glory of Knaresborough [[electronic resource]] : springing from severall famous fountains there adjacent, called the vitrioll, sulphurous, and dropping wells; and also other minerall waters. Their nature, physicall use, situation, and many admirable cures being exactly exprest in the subsequent treatise of the learned Dr. Dean, and the sedulous observations of the ingenious Michael Stanhope Esquire. Wherein it is proved by reason and experience, that the vitrioline fountain is equall (and not inferiour) to the Germane spaw |
| Pubbl/distr/stampa | Published (with other additions) by Iohn Taylor apothecary in York, : And there printed by Tho : Broad, being to be sold in his shop at the lower end of Stonegate, near to Common-Hall-Gates, 1649 |
| Descrizione fisica | [8], 39, [1] p |
| Altri autori (Persone) | TaylorJohn, apothecary in York |
| Soggetti | Mineral waters - England - Knaresborough Medicine |
| Lingua di pubblicazione | Inglese |
| Formato | Materiale a stampa |
| Livello bibliografico | Monografia |
| Note generali | First leaf is blank. Caption title on p. 1 reads: "The English spaw"; caption title on p. 28 reads: "A relation of certain particular cures, done by vertue of minerall waters, near Knaresborovv in the West-riding of the county of Yorkshire"; register and pagination are continuous. Reproduction of the original in the Guildhall Library, London. |
| Sommario/riassunto | eebo-0059 |