

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996391105203316
Autore	Origanus David <1558-1628 or 1629.>
Titolo	An ephemerides for five yeares to come. Calculated by the most learned and excellent mathematician, M. David Origanus; for the latitude of 52. degr. 20. min. Revised, corrected, and reduced to this forme, by Iohn Evans, Master of Arts
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed by Iohn Haviland, 1633
Descrizione fisica	[6], 144, [152] p
Altri autori (Persone)	EvansJohn <active 1613-1659.>
Soggetti	Astrology
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	A translation of: Annorum quinque sequentium ephemerides. Ephemeris for each year has special title page. Preceding the ephemerides, each with caption title, are: "A treatise of the name, definition, distribution, and vse of an ephemeris", "The second part, entreating of mathematicall physicke, or a briefe method of physicke, by iudiciall astrologie", and "The third part of this treatise, handleth the iudgements of the astrologians upon certaine questions appropriated to the 12 houses". "Although the text of the dedication is the same setting in all copies, the dedicatees vary: Earl of Craven (British Library copy), Sir T. Middleton, kt. and bt. (Folger Shakespeare Library copy), Sir H. Berkeley, kt. and bt. (American Antiquarian Society copy), S. Marow (Harvard University Library copy)."--STC. Pagination and signatures continuous. Imperfect; considerable print show-through; leaves tightly bound, with some loss of text. Reproduction of the original in the Folger Shakespeare Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0055