

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996391426903316
Titolo	The first part of the key of philosophie [[electronic resource]] : Wherein is contained most excellent secretes of phisicke and philosophie, diuided into two bookes. In the first is shewed the true and perfect order to distill, or draw forth the oiles, of all maner of gummes, spices, seedes, roots and herbs, with their perfect taste, smell and vertues: In the second is shewed the true and perfect order to prepare, calcine, sublime, and dissolue al maner of mineralles, and how ye shall drawe forth their oiles and saltes, which are most woonderfull in their operations, for the health of mans bodie. Full written in the Germane tongue by the most learned Theophrastus Paraselius, and now published to the English tongue by Iohn Hester, practitioner in the art of distillation
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Imprinted at London, : By Valentine Simmes, 1596
Descrizione fisica	[15], 112, [1] p
Altri autori (Persone)	HermanniPhilippus HesterJohn <d. 1593.>
Soggetti	Medicine Medicine - Formulae, receipts, prescriptions
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Not in fact by Paracelsus. An enlarged edition of: The true and perfect order to distill oyles out of al maner of spices. "Secrets of phisicke and philosophie. The second booke ..", an adaptation of "Een constich distillierboeck" by Philippus Hermanni, has separate dated title page; register and pagination are continuous. Formerly STC 13252. Identified as STC 13252 on UMI microfilm. Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018

