| Titolo | The cause of stumbling removed from all that will receive the truth; and from before the eyes of the wise men of London [[electronic resource]] : in a treatise shewing the difference between the spirit of a man which is the candle of the Lord, and the light which hath enlightned every man that cometh into the world. Also shewing ... there is not diversity of lights and spirits, by which they are ministred ... Herein also is a false hosanna, and a false testimony reprov'd ... the name of him which hath so long travell'd to bring forth wind and confusion, is one known in the city of London by the name of Iohn Iackson ... that so ... understanding and knowledge of the truth may be increased, in those that follow on to know the Lord / Given forth from the Lords servant, Richard Hubberthorne |
