

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996391820703316
Titolo	The examiner defended [[electronic resource]] : in a fair and sober answer to the two and twenty questions which lately examined the author of Zeal examined, in this answer are (not unseasonably) touched, Christ's interest in this and all nations. Christ's interest, and the Commonweals, as to the present affairs. The true nature of all civil states. The nature of all civil magistracie, and of the civil sword. The title of Christian magistrate. National churches and covenants. The world of religions ... The permission due to conscience ... Idolatry, and the kindes of it. The spiritual and civil sword, ... The forms of worship. The causes of destruction in nations. The violence to the souls of men; ... The dangerous consequence of such violences, ... Christ Jesus himself, ... The crying guilt of soul-rapes ... The light of nature in spirituales. The acts of Asa, Artaxerxes, &c. The fast of Nineveh. The conscientious differences ... The justice and prudence of state-provision against all uncivilities both of popish and protestant ranters
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed by James Cottrel, 1652
Descrizione fisica	[8], 95, [1] p
Soggetti	Spiritual life Idolatry Religion and state - England Worship
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	A reply to: The examiner examined. 1652. Annotation on Thomason copy: "Septemb. 14". Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018