Autore	Feake Christopher <fl. 1645-1660.>
Titolo	The oppressed close prisoner in Windsor-Castle, his defiance to the father of lyes, in the strength of the God of truth [[electronic resource]] : Occasioned by some late, scandalous and slanderous reports, raised and dispersed to the dishonour of that noble cause, wherein he (with others of the Lords servants) is so deeply engaged. As also, a seasonable word, concerning the higher powers: concerning the payment of taxes and tribute-money by the saints to those powers: and how far a minister of the Gospel may intermeddle in state-affairs without sin. / / By Chr. Feake, in his prison-watch-tower
