

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996392674903316
Titolo	The bloody field, or, The great engagement of the English and Scottish forces beyond sterling; [[electronic resource]] : with the manner of how Major Gen. Massey's Lieu colonel led on the forlorn hope against Col. Morgan, and charged each other with abundance of courage and resolution. The particulars of the fight, the event and success thereof, the number killed, taken, and wounded on both sides, and the commissions granted in the name of the King of Scots, to the English red coats that come in to his assistance. Likevwise, the imbodying of the tvvo armies on both sides, the interposing of General Monk near the mountains, the advancing of Col. Lilburn to his assistance, the besieging of one of our chief castles, and the marching of some of the cavalry towards Cumberland
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Imprinted at London, : for George Horton, 1654
Descrizione fisica	8 p
Soggetti	Great Britain History, Military Stuarts, 1603-1714 Early works to 1800
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Page 8 = postscript. Annotation on Thomason copy: "Ap: 28". Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018