| Titolo | A true prophecy of the mighty day of the Lord [[electronic resource]] : which is coming and is appeared in the north of England, and is arising toward the south, and shall overspread all the nations of the world. Wherein he is gathering his elect together out of all forms, observations, kindreds, tongues and nations; and is making up his jewels, his mighty Host, and is exalting Jesus Christ to be King of Kings, to go before his army which he hath raised up in the north of England, and is marching towards the south in mighty power to cut down high and low, rich and poor, priest and people, and all the powers of the land, and all the world over, that are fruitless trees, that cumber the ground, defile the flesh, and walk in disobedience to the righteous law of God, the pure light in the conscience: for who falls on this stone shall be broken; but on whom it falls, shall be ground to powder. A word from the Lord to all the inhabitants of England, rulers, priests and people, to haste, haste to meet the Lord with speedy repentance, and returning within, to harken diligently to his counsel, the light in your conscience, to be guided by his power, else you shall perish in your gainsayings; for if his anger be kindled a little, blessed are all they that trust in him. From the spirit of the Lord, written by one whose name in the flesh is William Deusbery, called Quaker with the people of the world, who live in their perishing nature |
