

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996392765403316
Titolo	The poor man's mite, unto the more large contributions of the liberal [[electronic resource]] : at this day freely added, in testimony of that respect which is born unto the faithful and their interest, as it's laid up and hid in Jesus. Briefly discovering, 1. The vanity of that rejoycing, which seems to glory in any thing save the Lord. 2. What is required of all that expect to have the form of the Lords house revealed unto them. 3. That however the chief corner-stone may be rejected, none other foundation can no man lay. 4. That as Christ shall appear, so with him shall the interest of the second of new creation, appear with him in glory. 5. A postscript, or additional word to the reader, occasioned by the late revived noise of uniformity, or national conformity to the principles of some men
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : printed for Livewell Chapman, at the Crown in Popes-Head-Alley, 1659
Descrizione fisica	[2], 13, [1] p
Soggetti	Second Advent Faith
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Annotation on Thomason copy: "June. 13." Reproduction of the original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018