

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996393230703316
Autore	L. P (Laurence Price), <fl. 1625-1680?>
Titolo	[A warning for all wicked livers] [[electronic resource] ] : By the example of Richard Whitfield, and M. Gibbs who were two notorious offenders, and both of one company, which two men made a daily practise, and got their livings by robbing and stealing both on the high-ways, and in any other places where they came, but were at last taken, apprehended and condemned to dye for robbing of a coach, & murdering of a captains man at Shooters-Hil, in Kent, some five or six miles from London, and for that offence and others, Gibbs was prest to death at Maidstone in Kent, and Whitfield was hanged in chains on Shooters-Hil, where he did the bloody deed, the 27th. of March, 1655. The manner how shall be exactly related in this ditty. The tune is, Ned Smith
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : Printed for F. Grove dwelling on Snow hill, [1655?]
Descrizione fisica	1 sheet ([1] p.) : ill. (woodcuts)
Soggetti	Retribution Thieves
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Signed: LP [i.e. Laurence Price]. Verse: "Of two notorious thieves ..." Date of publication suggested by Wing. Imperfect: cropped and torn affecting title; most of right half wanting. Reproduction of original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018