

1. Record Nr.

UNISA996395165603316

Titolo

Poor Tom the taylor his lamentation [[electronic resource]] : Giving an account how he pickt up a miss near the maypole in the Strand, and also how he handed her to the fair. where he treated her very generously, but according to the old proverb, sweet meat must have sower sauce, for while he was safe a snoring in bed she very dexterously picked his pocket, leaving him to pay the reckoning, without ever a penny in his purse, this unforunate disaster may well be a warning to all the taylors in or about London to forsake their old accustomed tricks, setting poor Tom before them as an example. To the tune of, Daniel Cooper

Pubbl/distr/stampa

[London], : Printed for I. Deacon, at the Angel in Guilt-spur-street, without Newgate, [1685?]

Descrizione fisica

1 sheet ([1] p.) : ill. (woodcuts)

Soggetti

Thieves
Ballads, English - 17th century
Broadsides 17th century.England

Lingua di pubblicazione

Inglese

Formato

Materiale a stampa

Livello bibliografico

Monografia

Note generali

Date of publication from Wing CD-ROM, 1996.
Verse: "Tom the taylor near the strand,".
Imperfect: heavily stained.
Reproduction of original in the British Library.

Sommario/riassunto

eebo-0018