

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996395318903316
Titolo	The pining maid, or, A pattern for lovers [[electronic resource]] : giving a brief account of the unfortunate death of a young man living in Coventry, shopkeeper, who drowned himself for the love of a maid daughter to a captain of the said city, because she denyed her promise and would not yeild to be his wife and now she lives in a most sad condition and is very much troubled in her mind the poet having a hint of some of her grief composed these lines into meeter, according to her directions and so caused it to be printed for all young men and maids, to take example by the same. The tune is, alack for my love I must dye
Pubbl/distr/stampa	[London], : Printed for Phillip Brooksby near the Hospeital-gate in West-Smith-field, [1675?]
Descrizione fisica	1 sheet ([1] p.) : ill. (woodcut)
Soggetti	Ballads, English - 17th century Broadside17th century.England
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Date of publication from Wing CD-ROM, 1996. Verse: "Come all young men [and] maidens". In two parts, printed side by side. Imperfect: Copy cut and mounted; second part has faded print. Reproduction of original in the British Library.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0018