

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996395442703316
Autore	Jones Thomas <1648-1713.>
Titolo	An astrological speculation of the late prodigy. Or A clear discovery of the approaching miseries signified by that comet, or blazing star [[electronic resource]] : which hath so long been visible, to several countries and nations in November, December and January; in the year 1680. Being a full account of the manner or nature of its effects, and in what countries they'l be exhibited. Also the true way of judging the effects, of all other comets, and such apparitions, carefully collected from the best experimental judgments of the choicest aphorisms, and according to their fundamental, and methodical rules; now in a seasonable time manifested in a plain and homely stile; fit for the understanding of mean capacities. By Thomas Jones a lover of learning, and student in astrology; & autodidactus
Pubbl/distr/stampa	London, : printed for the author, and are sold by him, in Pauls Alley, in Redcross-Street, 1681
Descrizione fisica	[6], 10 p
Soggetti	Astrology
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Caption title on p. 1: To know the significations or effects of comets or blazing stars by those following rules of art viz. .. With "Advertisements" for Jones's Welch almanacs on pp. 8-10. Reproduction of the original in St. Davids University College Library, Lampeter, Wales.
Sommario/riassunto	eebo-0150