

1.	Record Nr.	UNISA990002158100203316
	Autore	FERRARA, Francesco
	Titolo	Gli imprenditori e la società / Francesco Ferrara
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	Milano : Giuffrè, 1978
	Edizione	[Ristampa della 6. ed]
	Descrizione fisica	XX, 695 p. ; 24 cm
	Disciplina	346.7
	Soggetti	Imprenditori Società commerciali
	Collocazione	IG II 327
	Lingua di pubblicazione	Italiano
	Formato	Materiale a stampa
	Livello bibliografico	Monografia
2.	Record Nr.	UNINA9910464884403321
	Titolo	Military health care : from pre-deployment to post-separation / / edited by Jomana Amara and Ann M. Hendricks
	Pubbl/distr/stampa	Abingdon, Oxon : , : Routledge, , 2013
	ISBN	1-136-74232-8 0-203-56849-4
	Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (345 p.)
	Collana	Cass Military Studies
	Altri autori (Persone)	AmaraJomana <1961-> HendricksAnn M. <1947->
	Disciplina	355.3/450973
	Soggetti	Veterans - Medical care - United States Medicine, Military - United States Electronic books. United States Armed Forces Medical care
	Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
	Formato	Materiale a stampa
	Livello bibliografico	Monografia

Note generali	Description based upon print version of record.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references at the end of each chapters and index.
Nota di contenuto	""Cover""; ""Military Health Care: From pre-deployment to post-separation""; ""Copyright""; ""Contents""; ""Figures""; ""Tables""; ""Contributors""; ""Acknowledgements""; ""PART I Overview""; ""1 Survey of military medical care from pre-deployment to post-separation""; ""2 OEF/OIF demographics compared with previous cohorts: Implications for medical care""; ""3 Health care and insurance for US military service members: Active duty, national guard, reserve, veterans, and retired""; ""PART II Pre-deployment"" ""4 Pre-deployment medical policy development: Perspectives from the experience of US Central Command""""5 The Millennium Cohort Study: Answering long-term health concerns of US military service members by integrating longitudinal survey data with military health system records""; ""6 Screening for mental illness in the armed forces""; ""7 Ongoing efforts to address the public health problem of military suicide within the United States Department of Defense""; ""PART III Deployment""; ""8 Far forward medical care for US service members""; ""9 Evolution in optimal use of Navy hospital ships"" ""PART IV Post-deployment""""10 The history and evolution of traumatic brain injury rehabilitation in military service members and veterans in the United States""; ""11 Defense Centers of Excellence for Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury: DoD's response to psychological health (PH) and traumatic brain injury (TBI)""; ""12 Department of Veterans Affairs response to risk of suicide for veterans""; ""13 An overview of toxicant exposures in veteran cohorts from Vietnam to Iraq""; ""14 VHA health care in response to a new generation of female veterans"" ""15 Health, aging, and the post-service life cycles of US veterans""""16 Veteran care at the end of life: Their last battle""; ""Index""

3. Record Nr.	UNISA996478970703316
Autore	Shimabuku Annmaria M.
Titolo	Alegal : Biopolitics and the Unintelligibility of Okinawan Life // Annmaria M. Shimabuku
Pubbl/distr/stampa	New York, NY : , : Fordham University Press, , [2018] ©2019
ISBN	0-8232-8593-6 0-8232-8268-6 0-8232-8267-8
Edizione	[First edition.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (241 pages)
Collana	Fordham scholarship online
Disciplina	952/.29404
Soggetti	Biopolitics - Japan - Okinawa-shi Soldiers - Sexual behavior - United States - History - 20th century Military bases, American - Social aspects - Japan - Okinawa-ken Miscegenation - Japan - Okinawa-shi - History - 20th century Electronic books. Okinawa-shi (Japan) History 20th century
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	This edition previously issued in print: 2018.
Nota di bibliografia	Includes bibliographical references and index.
Nota di contenuto	Frontmatter -- Contents -- Preface -- Note on Translations and Romanizations -- List of Commonly Used Acronyms and Abbreviations -- Introduction -- 1. Japan in the 1950s: Symbolic Victims -- 2. Okinawa, 1945–1952: Allegories of Becoming -- 3. Okinawa, 1952–1958: Solidarity under the Cover of Darkness -- 4. Okinawa, 1958–1972: The Subaltern Speaks -- 5. Okinawa, 1972–1995: Life That Matters -- Conclusion -- Acknowledgments -- Notes -- Selected Bibliography -- Index
Sommario/riassunto	Okinawan life, at the crossroads of American militarism and Japanese capitalism, embodies a fundamental contradiction to the myth of the monoethnic state. Suspended in a state of exception, Okinawans have never been officially classified as colonial subjects of the Japanese empire or the United States, nor have they ever been treated as equal citizens of Japan. As a result, they live amid one of the densest concentrations of U.S. military bases in the world. By bringing Foucauldian biopolitics into conversation with Japanese Marxian theorizations of capitalism, Alegal uncovers Japan's determination to protect its middle class from the racialized sexual contact around its mainland bases by displacing them onto Okinawa, while simultaneously upholding Okinawa as a symbol of the infringement of Japanese sovereignty figured in terms of a patriarchal monoethnic state. This symbolism, however, has provoked ambivalence within Okinawa. In base towns that facilitated encounters between G.I.s and Okinawan women, the racial politics of the United States collided with the postcolonial politics of the Asia Pacific. Through close readings of poetry, reportage, film, and memoir on base-town life since 1945, Shimabuku traces a continuing failure to "become Japanese." What she discerns instead is a complex politics surrounding sex work, tipping with volatility along the razor's edge between insurgency and collaboration. At stake in sovereign power's attempt to secure Okinawa as a military fortress was the need to contain a legality itself—that is, a life force irreducible to the legal order. If biopolitics is the state's attempt to monopolize life, then Alegal is a story about how borderland actors reclaimed the power of life for themselves. In addition to scholars of Japan and Okinawa, this book is essential reading for anyone interested in postcolonialism, militarism, mixed-race studies, gender and sexuality, or the production of sovereignty in the modern world.

4. Record Nr.	UNISALENTO991002091659707536
Autore	Standing conference of rectors and vice-chancellors of the European universities : General assembly <5. ; 1974 ; Bologna>
Titolo	Les universités européennes : 1975-1985
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Oxford [etc.] : Pergamon Press, 1975
ISBN	0080197116
Descrizione fisica	240 p. ; 20 cm
Disciplina	378.4
Soggetti	Università - Europa - Congressi
Lingua di pubblicazione	Francese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	Assemblée générale de la conférence permanente des recteurs et vice-chanceliers des universités européennes réunie à Bologne du 1er au 7 septembre 1974