

1. Record Nr.	UNISA996492068103316
Titolo	Trans Health : International Perspectives on Care for Trans Communities // ed. by María do Mar Castro Varela, Max Nicolai Appenroth
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Bielefeld : , : transcript Verlag, , [2022] ©2022
ISBN	3-8394-5082-9
Edizione	[1st ed.]
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (247 p.)
Collana	Gender Studies
Disciplina	300
Soggetti	SOCIAL SCIENCE / LGBT Studies / Gay Studies
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Frontmatter -- Contents -- Glossary -- Introduction -- “The law is not going to tell us how to care for the patient.” – Health Professionals and the Argentine Gender Identity Act -- The Context of Health for Guatemalan Trans People -- Access to Trans Healthcare in Russia -- Healthcare Access of Trans People in Rwanda -- Determinants of Access to Healthcare Among Trans Women in North Central Nigeria -- Access to Gender-Affirming Care in South Africa – A Landscape in Transition -- No Data, No Problem? -- Community-Driven Responses to Public Health: An Example from England’s HIV Sector -- Cultural Competency with Non-Binary and Genderqueer Individuals: Results from a Qualitative Participatory Action Research Pilot Study -- Trans in Practice, Transition in Sequence: Providing Medical Assistance for Gender Transitions in Trans and Gender Non-Conforming Youth -- The Parallel Process of Trans Mental Health Providers – The Strengths and Complexities of Working as a Trans Person in Mental Healthcare -- Ganda ng Transpinays: Narratives on Trans Health, Barriers to Care and Trans Sisterhood in the Philippines -- Dis-ease of Access: Health and Cancer Care Survey for Trans and Gender Diverse Australians -- Do Trans People Age Differently? Empirical Findings of International Studies on Trans Identities, Health and Age(ing) -- About the authors (in order of appearance in the book)
Sommario/riassunto	Although social scientists and practitioners have shown an increased interest in the inclusion of trans persons in recent years, the current position of this group in the (medical/psychological/nursing) care system remains under-researched. Studies tend to merge the issues of gender diversity and sexual diversity, rendering the lived experiences of trans persons invisible. In addition, trans people often face a discriminatory environment in which they are pathologized and stigmatized as mentally ill. This anthology addresses trans people's access to healthcare from a transnational perspective, and offers courses of action to improve nursing, medical, therapeutic, and social care for trans persons. Most contributions of this book are written from a lived trans experience.
