Sommario/riassunto	Originalität, Flexibilität und Intensität zählen zu den entscheidenden Eigenschaften der zeitgenössischen Mittelklasse. Simon Roloff erfährt dies am eigenen Leib und erkundet Schauplätze der Einübung eines Habitus: Er wird zu seinem Traumjob gecoacht, improvisiert mit Managern und geht für die Ausschöpfung seiner inneren Ressourcen barfuß über glühende Kohlen. Durch einen innovativen Mix aus teilnehmenden Beobachtungen, autoethnografischen Analysen und lyrischen Montagen führt er seine Erlebnisse aus dem Fundus der Selbstverbesserung zu einem kritischen Paradigma unserer Gegenwart zusammen - und erzählt eine Mikrogeschichte der Implementierung von klassenbasierten Normen am Subjekt.

Sommario/riassunto	Traditional approaches to ANOVA and ANCOVA are now being replaced by a General Linear Modeling (GLM) approach. This book begins with a brief history of the separate development of ANOVA and regression analyses and demonstrates how both analysis forms are subsumed by the General Linear Model. A simple single independent factor ANOVA is analysed first in conventional terms and then again in GLM terms to illustrate the two approaches. The text then goes on to cover the main designs, both independent and related ANOVA and ANCOVA, single and multi-factor designs. The conventional

Sommario/riassunto

This book starts from the premise that the study of "exceptionally normal" women and men – as conceived by microhistory – has radical implications for understanding history and politics, and applies this notion to Sudan. Against a historiography dominated by elite actors and international agents, it examines both how ordinary people have brought about the most important political shifts in the country's history (including the recent revolution in 2019) and how they have played a role in maintaining authoritarian regimes. It also explores how men and women have led their daily lives through a web of ordinary worries, desires and passions. The book includes contributions by historians, anthropologists, and political scientists who often have a dual commitment to Middle Eastern and African studies. While focusing on the complexity and nuances of Sudanese local lives in both the past and the present, it also connects Sudan and South Sudan with broader regional, global, and imperial trends. The book is divided into two volumes and six parts, ordered thematically. The first part tackles the entanglement between archives, social history, and power. The second focuses on women's agency in history and politics from the Funj era to the recent 2018-2019 revolution. Part 3 includes contributions on the history and global connections of the Sudanese armed forces. In the second volume, part 4 intersects the themes of urban life, leisure, and colonial attitudes with queerness. In part 5, labour identities, practices, and institutions are discussed both in urban milieus and against the background of war and expropriation in rural areas. Finally, part 6 studies the construction of social consent under various self-styled Islamic regimes, as well as the emergence of alternative imaginaries and acts of citizenship in times of political openness.
