Sommario/riassunto	In 1972, the Second Statute of Autonomy came into force as the central constitutional foundation of South Tyrol's autonomy and thus of the protection of the German and Ladin minorities in South Tyrol. With reference to selected areas, such as competences, financial autonomy, language use, education and relations with other autonomies, this book shows how the Statute has proved itself in practice. Legal solutions for the rapidly changing requirements in law and society, for example through digitalisation, are also examined, as are South Tyrol's relations with the region of Trentino-Alto Adige/Sudtirol, municipalities and Europe. With contributions by Andrea Ambrosi Siegfried Brugger Paolo Coppola Matteo Cosulich Elena D'Orlando Sigrun Falkensteiner Martha Garber Esther Happacher Thomas Matha Walter Obwexer Gianfranco Postal Martha Stocker Helmut Tichy Roberto Toniatti Alice Valdesalici Karl Zeller.
