   Sommario/riassunto The MIUCC 2021 is intended to provide a forum to exchange experiences and promote recent trends in the fields of intelligent technologies in mobile and ubiquitous computing environment The distinguishing characteristic of MIUCC 2021 is the promotion of an intense dialogue between academia and industry to bridge the gap between academic research, industry initiatives, and governmental policies.
