

1. Record Nr.	UNISALENT0991002013749707536
Autore	Lucas, Édouard <1842-1891>
Titolo	Récréations mathématiques / par Édouard Lucas
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Paris : Librairie scientifique et technique A. Blanchard, 1974
Edizione	[Nouveau tirage]
Descrizione fisica	v. : ill. ; 19 cm
Classificazione	AMS 00A08 AMS 97A20
Disciplina	513
Soggetti	Mathematical recreations
Lingua di pubblicazione	Francese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Note generali	In 1974 published: "L'arithmetique amusante. Amusements scientifiques pour l'enseignement et la pratique du calcul" as "Introduction aux récréations mathématiques Ex Libris Mario Lombardo
Nota di contenuto	Vol. 2.: Qui perd gagne ; Les dominos ; Les marelles ; Le parquet ; Le casse-tête ; Les jeux de demoiselles ; Le jeu icosien d'Hamilton. - 245 p. Vol. 3.: Le calcul digital ; Machines arithmétiques ; Le caméléon ; Les jonctions de points ; Le jeu militaire ; La prise de la Bastille ; La patte d'oie ; Le fer à cheval ; Le jeu américain ; Amusements par les jetons ; L'étoile nationale ; Rouge et noire. - vii, 200 p. Vol. 4.: Le calendrier perpétuel ; L'arithmétique en boules ; L'arithmétique en bâtons ; Les marelles au XIIIe siècle ; Les carrés magiques de Fermat ; Les réseaux et les dominos ; Les régions et les quatre couleurs ; La machine à marcher. viii, 266 p.

2. Record Nr.	UNINA9910725994003321
Autore	Guerin Isabelle
Titolo	Microfinance challenges : empowerment or disempowerment of the poor? // Isabelle Guerin, Jane Palier
Pubbl/distr/stampa	Pondicherry : , : Institut Francais de Pondichery, , 2005
Descrizione fisica	1 online resource (xii, 384 pages)
Disciplina	332.10820954
Soggetti	Microfinance - South Asia
Lingua di pubblicazione	Inglese
Formato	Materiale a stampa
Livello bibliografico	Monografia
Nota di contenuto	Engendering microfinance / Meera Sundararajan -- Relevance of microfinance and empowerment in tribal areas / M. Thanuja -- Structural issues in empowerment under microfinance / Sreejata Banerjee and S.J.S. Swamidoss -- Empowerment and microfinance / Wayan Suadnya ... [et al.] -- Historical analysis of empowerment and its present understanding in the context of microfinance / Sunita Rabindranathan -- Micro enterprises of self help groups and state policies under a neo-liberal regime / S. Mohanakumar and Suja Susan George -- Can microfinance empower women? / Joy Deshmukh-Ranadive -- Situating microcredit in India / K. Kalpana -- Women's survival strategies and experiences with support services as home-based micro-entrepreneurs in Metro Manila / Christine Bonnin -- Microfinance, informal finance and empowerment of the poor / R. Sunil -- Emerging women micro-entrepreneurs in Bangladesh / Parveen Mahmud -- Microfinance technology and linkages with non-financial services / Arun Raste -- Microfinance, rural livelihoods and women's empowerment / Helzi Noponen -- Microfinance and women's empowerment / Meenal Patole and Frances Sinha -- Self-help groups and the empowerment of women / Binitha V. Thampi -- Microfinance and self-help groups / Usha Oommen and A. Meenakshisundararajan -- Findings from the mid-term impact assessment study of the CASHE programme in Orissa, carried out by SAMPARK , Bangalore / Prabhat Labh -- Microfinance and empowerment / P. A. Lakshmi Prasanna -- SHGs and their place and role in civil society / Prakash Louis -- Social externalities of women's empowerment through microfinance / M. Indira -- Empowerment of SHG/DWCRA women through microfinance / D. Vasudeva Rao -- Microcredit programmes, poverty alleviation and empowerment of women / K.R. Lakshmi Devi -- From passive participation to effective leadership / Uday Kumar.

---

Sommario/riassunto

La relation de causalite entre microfinance et empowerment n'est ni lineaire, ni univoque et encore moins systematique. Cet ouvrage propose d'alimenter le debat, d'une part en combinant reflexions theoriques et etudes de cas, d'autre part en confrontant praticiens et chercheurs de diverses disciplines. Une premiere partie propose de definir le concept d'empowerment. Une seconde partie insiste sur le role central de l'environnement. Le lien entre microfinance et empowerment est d'autant plus subtil, parfois imprévisible, que les projets de microfinance prennent place dans un contexte économique, social, culturel et politique qui est lui-même complexe, évolutif et qui conditionne partiellement les résultats obtenus. Une troisième partie porte sur la question cruciale de l'évaluation. Microfinance is often presented, not only as an efficient tool to fight against poverty, but also as a means of promoting the empowerment of the most marginalized sections of the population, especially women. However, reality has shown that the causal relation between microfinance and empowerment is neither linear, nor unequivocal and that it is even less systematic. This book is an attempt to nourish the debate, on the one hand, by combining theoretical reflections and case studies, and on the other hand, by engaging practitioners and researchers from various backgrounds (mainly economists, sociologists and anthropologists). First of all, we consider the question of definitions. Even if everyone agrees that the concept of 'empowerment' refers to notions of choice, of power and of change, the diversity of definitions suggested here confirms that under no circumstances does a universal conception of it exist. The second part insists on the central role of the environment. The link between microfinance and empowerment is all the more subtle, and sometimes unforeseeable, as microfinance projects take place within an economic, socio-cultural and political context that is itself complex, evolutionary and which partially conditions the results obtained. Microfinance projects - as any development projects - should therefore be understood and analyzed as endogenous processes. Finally, a third part relates to the crucial question of evaluation. Here still, the diversity of the results is striking: certain experiments are very positive while elsewhere the results are very mixed and sometimes even worrying. One does not speak any more of empowerment, but of "disempowerment" or even "overempowerment". This heterogeneity of results is due as much to the diversity of the projects, their methods of action, the target population, and the context of intervention as to the methodologies of evaluation. The conclusion leads us to go beyond a certain number of contradictions evoked throughout the book while proposing to think of empowerment using the French concept of "solidarity-based economy". This concept of solidarity-based economy, which is theoretical as well as normative, is a framework for analysis and action, which, according to us, must make it possible to guard against the risks of failures and perverse effects mentioned throughout the book.

---